Mission:

CAP Foundation's mission is to promote access to community based qualitative, sustainable and affordable integrated learning opportunities that link education and livelihoods to positive outcomes for all young people from economically and educationally disadvantaged backgrounds achieve their career and life aspirations and prepare them for self directed growth and positive citizenship.

Approach:

CAP Foundation facilitates exchange of resources, opportunities and competencies between businesses, communities through public-private partnerships that contribute to long term and sustainable livelihood development benefiting the difficult-to-reach sections of young people in society.

Letter from the Chairperson

CAP Foundation's work with young adults and youth in difficult circumstances has predominantly revolved around academic, vocational and occupational skills for the emerging new economy job markets. Customization and localization has helped the now popular Teen Channel Accelerated learning Program and the CAP Basic Employability Skills Training (BEST) Model to be applied to these at-risk youth in various contexts of out-of-school and post school contexts.

Strategic interventions to target very vulnerable groups of these at-risk young people have been made in respect of street and working children, potential victims and survivors of trafficking, youth from displaced and migrant communities, disaster affected communities, urban unemployed youth, youth from tribal and rural areas in transition from their traditional livelihood patterns, and adolescent school drop-outs. As a process of continuous learning of the organization and its people, CAP has endeavored to study and learn from the life, experiences and efforts of these thousands of young people. They serve as our inspiration and our guiding star with their never- say-die- attitude. They taught us to make linking and learning our mission. They help us understand what gets them going in the toughest of situations – their energy, passion, values, their friends and their dreams!

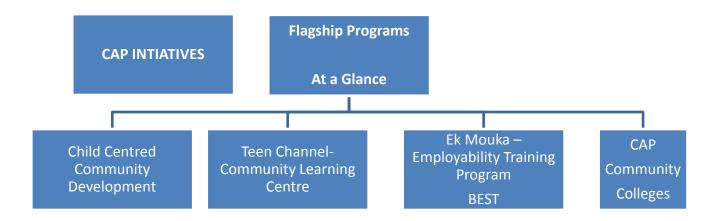

This year's Annual Report is a humble tribute to our young heroes-those who have overcome daunting challenges and adversities to defy odds, find their deepest strengths and grab opportunities to make life altering decisions and efforts - to emerge winners, role models and an inspiration.

We also realize that in reality it has not been so easy and doable as it sounds in each of these stories as told by these young people – just that when the young people narrate their stories, they seem to have reached such comfort levels with their own selves and their lives that they don't seem to think what they have achieved is stupendous and impacts much more than their own lives or those of their families – they impact all those who believe in the spirit of youth!

We thank every young person for sharing their life and learning with us – to make us more informed, and sensitive.

It has been a truly humbling experience!

Child Centred Community Development Program (CCCD)

CAP Foundation continues to address the community needs through its unique Child Centered Community Development model. CAP actualizes this by Building Relationships (BR) with children, families and the community thereby improving quality of life through addressing the needs such as early child care, education, child rights, health, sanitation HIV/AIDS, and thrift and credit activities.

CAP Foundation has already reached out to 20,000 children and their families in 21 sub urban slum neighborhood communities in Hyderabad. The CAP covers four key slum and industrial belt areas in Hyderabad namely Shapurnagar, Balanagar, Qutbullapur and Kukatpally. The mentioned areas are primarily inhabited by low-income migrant population both from Andhra Pradesh and the other states in India.

This year, in addition to 21 suburban slum neighborhoods, CAP has extended its services to 11 new neighboring urban slums localities totaling the outreach areas to 32 urban slums.

The project is currently operating 25 ECCD centers. 16 centers are supported by Plan India and the remaining 9 centres are aided by the Government. This project reaches children and adolescents aged 3 to 18 years. The project has reached 869 children and 412 children who were prepared for formal schooling and have been mainstreamed into nearby schools. The project has built capacities of 204 school teachers on effective teaching with low cost teaching materials. 5985 parents and the community members have acquired knowledge on early childhood care and development, health and nutrition, child rights, child protection, HIV/AIDS, self help groups, and universal birth registration. 32 School development committees and 42 child councils with representation of parents and children were formed this year to address the issues related to community, child education, child protection etc. Through these committees CAP is promoting child rights and protection at four levels

- children, family, community and government/Institutions.

As an outcome these committees, parents and the community have started playing an active role in dealing with their local issues. In particular, School Development Committee operating in Shivalayamnagar of Qutubullapur neighborhood has skillfully discussed the needs of their school with the local political leaders and has successfully obtained 2 additional class rooms and two toilets. Through the ongoing awareness programmes, the community has good understanding on the issues related to health, nutrition, child rights and significantly parents have realized the importance of acquiring birth certificates for their children.

CAP's continuous efforts through programmes like "Learning without have helped children improve their confidence and leadership levels. The outcome is a local news letter, Asha Kiranalu (Rays of Hope) (cover page on right) brought out by the children. This bi-monthly newsletter has published 4 issues so far and is covering stories, drawings and news related to children.

85 self help groups continue to operate with 1175 women members with a saving of INR 21,06,503 and government loans of Rs. 34 lakhs. The SHG women are trained in different small businesses and are guided according to their skills.

Teen Channel - Community Learning Centre Initiative

The Teen Channel program aims at reaching adolescents aged 13 – 18 years in particular the adolescents who are out of school, school drop outs and potential drop-outs. Through this program, CAP Foundation is providing a holistic education module for high school level academic certification with life skill modules and career exploration opportunities. The model is effectively addressing the issues affecting their quality of life and future in an enabling environment that addresses students learning needs – academic, vocational, and occupational. In the last four years, over 6000 adolescents have accessed the program with 76% completing elementary and high school State Board examination.

CAP foundation is operating a total of 17 Teen channel learning centers. 10 centres in Hyderabad, 4 in Chennai, and 3 in NCR respectively.

Teen channel this year made significant progress reaching 4716 adolescents and achieving 83% of pass percentage in class 10 exams. Apart of academics, sports, life skills education and library activities, students have gained an intensive exposure towards career exploration through industrial visits namely RKS Motors, Coco Cola, NIRD, and Pearls Inn. A Career Mela was organized in Hyderabad to provide an insight into different employment opportunities available.

Some highlights of Teen Channel Programme

- 4 3893 students appeared for 10th standard final examination and 3160 students cleared it successfully.
- ♣ 2066 students have joined Intermediate courses in different colleges.
- ≠ 590 students have joined vocational courses with CAP Foundation.

Realizing dreams - Topper of Teen Channel Programme - Durga Prasad Speaks....

Ram Durga Prasad has topped class 10 exam securing 85 percent marks and now joined CAP's Vocational Junior College to pursue his intermediate.

Recollecting his difficulties to reach this point, Durga Prasad said "I dropped out of school at the age of 12 to financially support my family. My father met with an accident and had to quit his job. My brother was then working as a welder and earning Rs.3500 a month. We realized that my brother's income would not be sufficient to manage the family. Hence I took up a job as an assistant in a medical store and worked for 2 years for a salary of Rs.1000 a month. After two years, I joined Teen Channel Program and completed class 10 while working. I secured 509 and am glad that I am the topper of Teen Channel schools. I am happy that I have joined CAP's vocational junior college. I am still working part-time and am earning Rs. 1400 a month." And he cheerfully now says that he aspires to grow as an automobile engineer, get his polio afflicted sister married to a good person and contribute his best to his family.

Ek Mouka – Employability Training Courses (ETC)

Basic Employability Skill Training (BEST) is a new economy livelihood promotion training program which is exclusively designed for the school drop outs / unemployed secondary school graduates / street youth / retrenched workers / migrant youth / resettlement community members from the poorest 15 % of the Indian population. The program supports both employment opportunity oriented workforce preparation as well as tiny and micro enterprise development that is specifically and clearly oriented to identified labor market requirements and opportunities. The curriculum and practical training modules are based on variable inputs from businesses, Corporate, NGOs and networks. The Workforce Development Initiative (WFDI) is the apex institution for offering design and support services through advisory councils and is also the program management unit.

This program has demonstrated new partnership strategies to provide an integrated and placement linked employability skill development program for out-of-school and at-risk young people. Developed through a broad range of stakeholders including industry professionals and business leaders, skill councils, youth workers, citizens volunteers, local state education and vocational training departments, the model has demonstrated a new paradigm in terms of community based sustainable replicable vocational training for advancing livelihood promotion opportunities for youth at risk. This model is now ready to be easily applied, replicated in the identified districts to especially the most vulnerable target communities of youth.

BEST offers 13 different 3 months certificate courses across centers in India. This year 12013 students underwent training and 9489 (79%) students were successfully placed with key employers in corporate, healthcare and business sector.

Pooja Setia had to discontinue intermediate to take up a job and financially support her family of 5 members. Inspite of her intermediate

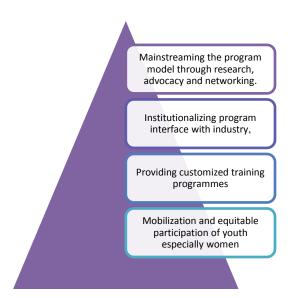

To meet the training needs of the youth, this year CAP has extended its training programmes to West Bengal and Bihar is meticulously is reaching students from the rural areas.

Along with on site trainings this year, CAP Foundation has organized offsite trainings for employers, students and community youth in NCR, Andhra Pradesh, and Uttar Pradesh. These offsite training gave inputs to students on life skills and migration related support. In particular CAP has trained the 40 students from Northeast India on migration support and imparted life skills to truck drivers of Shell India.

CAP Community colleges:

The CAP Community Colleges are an alternate system of education and skill development for the poor and disadvantaged youth. The community Colleges promote job oriented, work related employability skills training along with life skills. The vision of the Community Colleges is to be of the community, for the community and by the community for producing responsible citizens. Course offered are recognized by Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU), New Delhi and board of Board of Intermediate, Government of Andhra Pradesh.

CAP currently is operating 22 community colleges across India offering certificate courses, diploma courses and associate degree courses in multiple disciplines. It is offering two-year vocational courses and a one year diploma course in 22 different types of vocations.

USAID (in partnership with 13 international	Preparing disadvantaged youth for 21st

Ministry of Rural Development (MoRD)	Train rural BPL youth in Para-medical courses

While the MSDF, EU, MoRD and Plan India partnerships continues to reach youth with different livelihood trainings, three year partnership with USAID that started in the year----- concludes this year.

USAID project in particular was operated in 10 Indian states preparing 18080 disadvantaged youth for the 21st century jobs. Among these 10651 youth were successfully placed with different employers with salaries ranging INR 3000 to 11000 respectively. Significantly this project has reached 92% of youth below the age 25 of years, of which 67% of youth are from the Schedule Caste, Schedule Tribes and Backward caste communities.

However the project was able to reach only 36% of girls affirming that the girls are still deprived of social and economic empowerment. Especially in Rajasthan, CAP was able to reach only 2% of girls. Despite all efforts patriarchy, discriminatory customs, religion and values played key role in restricting girls to enroll for the training programmes.

Other projects have made a significant progress in organizing trainings and placing students. Interestingly this year a large number of youth have opted for Nurse Aide course followed by administrative jobs in clinics (see graph), indicating the need to add more courses that can enable students to secure job in health care sector.

Here again winning the community's confidence, motivating the parents to enroll their young girls for the trainings, recruiting and training the facilitators, working in communally sensitive areas, and organizing broad band connectivity in remote peripherals remained as key challenges.

To address the challenges CAP teams constantly have organized counseling sessions to parents and encouraged them to enroll and retain female children into the training programmes. To win confidence of the community, CAP teams have diligently shared the information about the courses and employment model. And commendably in several places CAP's alumni became brand ambassadors to promote the model and gain communities confidence.
