CASE STUDY

Sumit Kumar Gupta of Murhu village of Khuntti District of Jharkhand could not continue his education as his father found it difficult to support a family of five. While searching for a job, Sumit came across the Ek Mouka mobilization and roadshow. The training programme sounded interesting to him. Sumit said, "I already had lost lot of time, and I thought there is nothing wrong in experimenting for a short period of 3 months". After taking training in CRS course and life skills, Sumit Kumar is now working with Virgin mobile at Ranchi as sales executive with a salary of Rs. 5500/- and is very happy and proud about it.

"My father's monthly income is Rs. 2500. After finishing my 10th class, I did not succeed in finding a job. One fine day I came to know about Workforce Development Initiative through the handbills. Through interest inventory test I got into Customer Relations and Sales course. Here I learnt how to utilize my skills in communications, manage time, money, the business ethics and the responsibility. This has given a future to me. Every day was a different day. We got the knowledge in the classroom as well as through the assignments. The way we learnt was with lots of fun and seriousness. Now I believe the future is in my hands and I am going to change my future with this training."

My sincere thanks to CAP Foundation
